Biographical Index of South Australians 1836-1885

Includes the original four volumes of the 'Biographical Index of South Australians 1836-1885' as well as the two volumes of 'South Australians 1836-1885'. The Biographical Index was originally published in 1986 and is a major biographical work containing approximately 100,000 entries of South Australians who were born or arrived in the colony during this period. The South Australians 1836-1885 was published in 1990 to supplement the Biographical Index and contains an additional 7,500 entries. Entries in both include information on individuals such as parents, spouse, children, birth date, marriage date, death date and place, arrival in South Australia, residence, religion, occupation and more.

South Australia 1841 Census

The 1841 South Australian has just over 7,000 listings, accounting for nearly 15,500 people. The 1841 census only names the heads of households in the closely settled areas. This is the only surviving historical South Australian census.

South Australian land owners 1835-1841

A database designed to provide the researcher with a complete listing of all land purchases in South Australia as extracted from a range of records held by the State Library and State Records of South Australia.

There are details on large land purchases (several hundred or thousand acres), but most are small 1 acre town allotments. Apart from the name of the purchaser, a range of information about the parcel of land is provided including the date of purchase and the price paid, as well as the address at the time of purchase, which often is overseas. The material is supported by heritage maps showing the location of each land purchase.

Pastoral Pioneers of South Australia

Compiled over a number of years, the 'Pastoral Pioneers of South Australia' is a compilation of articles first produced by 'The Adelaide Stock and Station Journal', as a series of biographical sketches starting in 1923. This two volume set contains approximately 300 biographies of South Australia's pastoral pioneers and old colonists. A photograph accompanies each entry, as well as extensive biographical details. Those falling into the 'old colonists' category had arrived in the state prior December 28, 1846 (the 10th anniversary of the province).

Aldine history of South Australia 1890

Published in 1890 in two volumes which total over 1,000 pages, these rare volumes contain a comprehensive and well illustrated record of South Australia at the time.

The first volume is divided into thirty-two chapters and covers topics such as the early explorers, geography, aborigines, flora and fauna, education, religion, recreation, as well as primary and secondary resources, governors of South Australia and the Constitution. Volume two has one more chapter which concludes the history section. This is then followed by about 400 pages of biographies of early South Australians.

Cyclopedia of South Australia 1907-09

The Cyclopedias that were published for most states of Australia around the beginning of the 20th century are a vast resource of historical and biographical information on the state concerned – the people, towns, industries, professional, commercial and social institutions and much more. They include thousands of illustrations, the larger number of these being portraits of those whose biographies are included. These are not just the rich and famous, but include a high percentage of the ordinary citizens in each community.

South Australian Counties Atlas 1876

Compiled by H.S. Carroll in 1876, this atlas was the first of its kind ever produced in the colony. It shows all boroughs, postal towns, villages, hamlets, road boards, roads, railways, rivers, lakes, creeks, mountains, stations and the area of county and station (including the names, occupiers, grazing capabilities and area of each). It also includes the population of each town in the colony, height of mountains, length, rise, and fall of rivers, the quantity of cereals and green crops, hay, wine etc., produced in the different localities, and all the geographical, geological, and physiological matter of South Australia and the Northern Territory at the time.

South Australian Police Gazette: Complete set 1862-1947

A complete set of 86 years of the 'South Australian Police Gazette' from 1862 through to 1947. Police gazettes contain details and information that can not be found anywhere else.. Information includes changes within the police force (promotions, demotions, discharges, resignations, deaths); housebreak-ins, robberies, arson, murders, deserters from service or from families, warrants issued, prisoners discharged, missing friends, lost and found items and more.

Emigration to South Australia 1853: passenger lists and notices

Information extracted from the 1853 'South Australian Government Gazette', which unlike other years published a number of shipping lists and other notices and reports of voyages.

Bound for South Australia – passenger lists 1836-1851

Virtually every passenger list for more than 3,000 overseas and local ships that came to South Australia between 1836-1851 plus a searchable database of these passengers, ship diaries and reports and much more.

Horner Index: index to departures by passenger ship from South Australia directly for overseas (not interstate or intrastate) taken from the Register newspaper 1836-1887

An alphabetical list by passenger of departures from South Australia directly for overseas between 1836-1887.

Deaths on emigrant vessels to South Australia 1849-1865

A facsimile of the 'return showing deaths occurring on board emigrant ships to South Australia from 1849 to 5 June 1865' which was published in the 'South Australian Government Gazette' of 26 January 1866. Each entry gives ship name, age, cause of death, where buried.
