

Sturt River Linear Trail

Trail length:	2km
Difficulty level:	easy
Access:	walking, cycling
Setting/experience:	riverine linear trail

This small section of shared use path aligns along the beautiful Sturt River in Coromandel Valley. Featuring several rest areas and picnic nodes, it provides a link between the sports grounds of Frank Smith Park and the historic Institute building, Coromandel Valley.

A network of trails in this area has also been developed by the State Government in the Sturt Gorge Recreation Park, Craighburn Farm. Visit www.environment.sa.gov.au/parks

In Darlington a well-established shared use path trail aligns along the Sturt River stormwater drainage system connecting to Glenelg North.
